

FOOD & WINE

Our Faves for NATIONAL BURGER MONTH

Marina Kennedy May 10, 2017

We've searched the New York metro area to find the most delicious craft burgers for "National Burger Month" in May. And it's not just all about the best beef. Many of the restaurants we selected have a nice selection of veggie burgers, turkey burgers, and other savory selections.

It's a great time of year to stop by one of these eateries for a satisfying meal or do a grab and go and picnic in the park. The best burgers are cooked just the way you like them and these spots are meticulous about serving them to perfection.

5-Napkin Burger (Multiple Locations in NYC and Boston) Stop in for a burger this month dedicated to meaty goodness. Leave it to this premium burger restaurant to make sure there's a burger for everyone, with over 12 unique burgers on the menu including their infamous "Original 5 Napkin Burger." To celebrate National Burger Month, Executive Chef Andy D'Amico heats things up with the debut of the "Spicy Baja Burger," 10 ounces of Angus Chuck topped with Mexican Pimento Cheese, Chorizo Chili and crispy Jalapeños all on a Potato Bun. Visit: <http://5napkinburger.com/>.

