Manhattan is known for being “the city that never sleeps”, and in the duration of not sleeping, the ever popular “happy hour” does exist at different parts of the night. It goes beyond the traditional quitting time to 8/9:00 PM and can run late into the night, so what are the best places to go to in Manhattan to experience a late night happy hour with your friends and family?

We found two Manhattan staples, both places we have gloriously reviewed for Manhattan Digest in the past, that we think you will love to experience all you can for a late night happy hour. Take a look.

When a beer or cosmo sets you back for less than your cab ride over, why not order a round of food too? All 5 Napkin locations boast $7 cocktails, $7 house wines, $6 craft beer, $3 sliders, $3 tuna tostones and $1 hell’s kitchen jumbo wings, M-F 4-6 and all week long 10pm – close. (Upper West Side, Upper East Side and Union Square, 5napkinburger.com). Check out our original review here.
