

Manhattan Digest

Where to Celebrate National French Fry Day Today!

By Ryan Shea - Jul 13, 2017  11  0

Every single day in the calendar year has some sort of holiday that celebrates everything including animals, food, drink and more (we just celebrated National Fried Chicken Day last month). Today, we celebrate the salty & potato-ey goodness that is french fries! July 13th marks National French Fry Day, and several restaurants around Manhattan are celebrating in a big way and want you to share in all of its deliciousness!

Take a look at these delicious options for National French Fry Day, and make sure you come hungry as they are ready to put you in the best french fry frenzy in the world!

5 Napkin Burger

Leave it to the burger experts to know a thing or too about fries! Dig into Chili Cheese Fries ($11), thick cut crinkle fries topped with meaty angus steak chili, creamy cheddar cheese, sour cream, pickled jalapenos and scallions.

