

EAT AND DRINK

NYC Pride Month treats: Baked by Melissa, Magnum Ice Cream and more

By Meghan Giannotta and Nicole Levy nicole.levy@amny.com June 9, 2017

An excuse to eat colorful cupcakes, truffles and more? We'll take it.

If you're looking to celebrate Pride Week in NYC, these rainbow-hued treats and libations are a must.

Dig in and drink up before they're gone!

5 Napkin Burger's purple velvet old fashioned

Who needs all of ROYGBIV when you can sip on this imperially plum-hued beverage? It's prepared with velvet falernum, Flor de Cana rum, two kinds of bitters and a twist of citrus. Swimming on the surface is a purple ice ball infused with Crème Yvette, a violet liquor with hints of berries, vanilla and spices.

You can order a purple velvet old fashioned at 5 Napkin Burger's Hell's Kitchen location throughout June, for $12 a glass.

5 Napkin Burger, 630 9th Ave., Manhattan, 212-757-2277

(Credit: 5 Napkin Burger)

